Re: Rob Watts Electrical

Rob Watts Electrical has provided electrical services to Barkoola Environmental since he first moved into the area in 2005.

The operation at Barkoola is quite complex, with a large number of pumps, blowers, motors and fans, and the associated distribution and control systems. Despite the complexity of our systems, the standard of work and the professionalism displayed by Rob is of the highest order.

Working conditions on our site (we process liquid and hazardous wastes) are far from ideal. Rob and his team are always willing and pleasant in spite of the conditions, and get on very well with our staff.

Service is of particular importance to us when we have a breakdown or other callout situation. Rob's crew have never let us down where we have an emergency – he has always made himself available even when I know he is busy with other work.

Of equal importance is attitude to Safety and Health. Our site processes hazardous and dangerous substances, and we require a high standard of compliance with our site OHS rules. Again we have come to expect a high standard from Rob and his team.

I would have no hesitation in recommending Rob Watts Electrical for any electrical work that may be required, and would be happy to give a verbal reference should one be required. I can be contacted on 0411 074 433.
